Security is the foundation of a modern campus.

With frictionless security and access control, daily life on a Tranact-powered campus is easier, safer, and much more convenient.

Safer campuses

In an emergency, campuses with integrated security and mobile ID allow administrators to remotely lock down any connected building on campus—from desktop or mobile device. With transaction and access data, administrators can keep students safe by locating those in danger or anyone who may pose a threat.

› Initiate a partial or total lockdown anytime, anywhere from your phone & send alerts to students during emergencies

› Configurable mobile monitoring, momentary unlock, and lockdown/override options

› Automatically assign access privileges

› Provide unlimited schedule exceptions

Daily convenience

With one centralized security solution, students can access the dorms and buildings they need from their phones and administrators can monitor and control access privileges.

› Flexible access settings with door organization and grouping

› View student campus movement data and place for future events/shifts as needed

› Integration with existing and critical campus security systems

Elevate your approach to campus security.
